Timesheet Standard Elements Implementation

The original timesheet standard elements implementation date of January 1, 2005 has been postponed to March 31, 2005. For those departments who have pushed hard to successfully meet the original deadline, we sincerely appreciate your effort. Technical Services has been coordinating with departments to determine what progress has been made to meet the new timesheet minimum standard elements. Departments are meeting the minimum standards in different ways; starting from scratch and creating brand new timesheets, using the example provided by the Department of Administration or adding information to current timesheets to bring them into compliance. As departmental timesheets are developed, feel free to contact Technical Services to ensure compliance with the timesheet standard elements or if questions or concerns arise regarding the process for implementation.
